Top Tip

If you have a track or pole already fitted, ensure you measure the full width. If you don't have one in place yet, measure the width of your window recess and allow for any overlap, we recommend adding 30cm.

Double check the positioning before fully tightening all screws. 7. Attach the pole to the brackets by loosening the small screw on the beaker cup before putting the pole in place. 8. Add endings to the end of pole. 9. Position the pole and tighten the small screws on the beaker. This is important because a tight fit between the wall and the plug is necessary. The hole should have the same diameter as the wall plug to ensure that your pole is firmly fixed. If you are looking for a solution that does not require DIY knowledge, the extendable posts can be scaled and resized as needed without cutting. Many ready-made shutters can be cut to provide better fit, so if your windows don't match the normal measures of shutters, buy a shutter with a width and length longer than needed, and carefully follow the product instructions to trim it. measured at home. If your windows are of an unusual shape or size, our Made to Measure service offers a practical solution. Top Tip: When ordering Made to Measure shutters to fit inside a niche, please provide the exact measurements of the niche width. We'll set you to 1 cm. To ensure maximum light control, place brackets correctly above and on each side of the recess of the window. To cut your pole, you need a good quality sharp saw and a lathe to keep it firm during cutting. 4. Inside a recess, venetian blinds, roller blinds and Romans need free space on each side to ensure that the sides do not drag on the wall during the extension, therefore the overall width should be reduced by 1cm. If you are unfit, please contact your local store. Masonry walls Use the correct size of the masonry drill.
